

GRIM-VISAGED WAR.

Hostilities between Spain and the United States have begun. War is on, and the United States warship Nashville won first prize by capturing a Spanish merchantman. A report that the fleet under Captain Sampson had sent the Spanish man-of-war Alfonso XIII to Davy Jones' locker had been in circulation yesterday, but it was not confirmed.

It is stated that no attempt will be made by the American fleet to capture Havana until troops are ready to invade Cuba. This will probably delay the bombardment of Havana a week or more, but the harbor will be blockaded and no vessels will be permitted to enter or leave the port. Carrying this order into effect may result in a naval conflict, as the Spanish Navy will undoubtedly attempt to raise the blockade. It will not be surprising, therefore, if one of the greatest naval fights of modern times, that is since war vessels were armored, takes place in Cuban waters within a week.

Volunteers will now be mustered into the service as speedily as they can be organized and equipped for service, but only a few thousand of them will probably be sent with the regulars to Cuba. The others will garrison cities on the Atlantic seaboard and on the Gulf of Mexico.

It is believed by army and navy officers that the principal fighting in the present war will be on the sea. There may be some land battles in Cuba when the United States troops are landed on the island, but the decisive fights will be on water. As Spain has a navy in some respects superior to ours, it will be no boy's play to capture Havana and protect our own seaboard. Uncle Sam has a great advantage, however, in being near his base of supplies, and a million men will respond to his call should he require that number. He has unlimited credit, inexhaustible resources, the most approved arms and most intelligent fighters and should it take months or a year to drive the Spaniards across the ocean, he can bear the expense without being overburdened.

The Mormon church is in line in the present unpopularity. Ten thousand people attended the Good Friday services in the Tabernacle, and after some war talks, and prayers for the President, the immense congregation joined in singing "America." Good for the Mormons.—Helen Independent

WELL, Ma and Aurelius Hanna, the great promoter of trusts, combines, and ballot-box stuffing, has not been able to stem the current of public sentiment, which set directly against him, and the destruction of the Maine is to be avenged and the Cubans freed from the galling yoke of Spain.

CAPTAIN SAMPSON has been ordered to leave Key West with the fleet and obey instructions. This means the blockade of Havana and the bombardment of the fortifications at the entrance to the harbor. As there are Spanish war vessels at Havana a fight is imminent at any moment.

As every state in the Union is anxious to be represented in the army of invasion Nevada will probably be called upon to furnish its quota of volunteers, though the States on the Atlantic seaboard offers more men than can be mustered in to Uncle Sam's service.

ONE hundred years ago Spain's Sovereignty extended over the greater part of the American continent. Now its grasp on Cuba is loosened and the war is over it is certain to lose Cuba and Porto Rico, the only colonies it now claims in the Western Hemisphere.

AUGUSTUS U. WILBER, City and County Treasurer of San Francisco, spent $116,000 of the funds entrusted to his care, on women, wine and horses, and is now under arrest. He confesses his guilt, and says he lost the money in mining speculations.

CAPTAIN SAMPSON's fleet is ordered to blockade Havana, but not to fire the first shot. Commodore Schley's flying squadron will not sail until further orders. Spain will have to fire the shot that will be the signal for Cuban independence.

SPANISH bonds have tumbled and the gold trust is dependent. Its hope now lies in its ability to make millions out of American bonds, but that it can not do if the silver in the Treasury is coined and Congress authorizes a popular loan.

POSTMASTER GENERAL GRAY has resigned because of heart trouble, and Secretary of the Treasury Gage is reported to have resigned because of trouble with the President.

THE destruction of the Maine will now be avenged. The dogs of war are loosed and Uncle Sam's boys in blue will join the Cubans in their fight for independence.

Battleships are named after States and cruisers after cities. Thus the reader can determine what vessels are battleships and what vessels are cruisers.

Senator Forsaker says the United States will recognize the representatives of the Cuban Republic within a week after hostilities begin.

WAR NEWS.

Captain Sampson's fleet left Key West yesterday morning for Havana. It was expected to make the trip in about eight hours.

Schley's squadron will not be dispatched across the Atlantic to intercept the Spanish flotilla. The Navy Department has so decided. It is thought that the squadron is not strong enough for the expedition and the arrival of the Oregon will be awaited.

The cruiser Nashville fired a signal for a Spanish merchantman to leave to. She was boarded by a United States crew and returned to Key West as a prize.

The blockade proclamation has already been issued and it is probable that the Spanish steamer Montserrat due at Havana with a rich cargo will be made a prize.

The authorities at Washington are considering the advisability of declaring war and a call for volunteers will be immediately issued. The bill authorizing such a proceeding having been agreed to by both Senate and House.

Captain Sampson has been made a Rear Admiral of the Navy.

Minister Woodford's train was attacked by rioters when leaving Spain, but he reached France safely.

Senator Davis, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, is of the opinion that a formal declaration of war is unnecessary. Cannon of Utah on the other hand, believes that war should be declared five minutes after noon on Saturday.

The Spanish have control of the Cape Verde cable, and it is thought no reliance can be placed on the report that the Spanish fleet left the islands Thursday night. It may have left several days ago.

Thirty thousand reserves were ordered into active service in Spain yesterday morning.

Congressman Campbell's offer to raise a regiment of Illinois troops has been accepted by the War Department.

The Government has forbidden the transmission of code messages between Key West and Havana and has established a strict censorship to take effect immediately.

President McKinley will draw his proclamation calling for troops in much the same terms as the famous call of Lincoln was couched.

The report that the Spanish battleship Alfonso XIII had been sunk by the Atlantic fleet was not confirmed.

The President is preparing a notice to all Spanish subjects in the United States at the present time, giving the usual treaty year within which to dispose of their business interests in this country.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt has retired from the navy. He will be appointed Brigadier General of the volunteers.

A box of powder so arranged that the removal of the lid would explode and kill the person handling it, was sent to the White House with the evident object of causing the death of the President. The infernal machine was intercepted in transit by the White House bodyguard.

The largest fence in the world has just been completed on the Mexican frontier by the Erie Cattle Company. It is 75 miles in length and was built to keep the cattle from running across the border and falling an easy prey to the Mexican cow punchers.

Owing to the dread of drouth, the stockmen of central and southern California are leasing swamp and overflowed land on the river bottoms with the hope of securing pasturage later in the season.

The Cape Verde islands from which the Spanish squadron sailed are off the west coast of Senegal, Africa, and in almost a direct line east of Cuba. The distance is about 2500 miles.

Quite Likely the Case.

Chas. M. Shortridge, whom Carson has been lionizing for a week or two and who is reported to be in Nevada in his own or some other person's interest tending to the election of United States Senator from this State seems, according to the Examiner to be having some domestic complications.

Mrs. Shortridge gives brother Sam a severe scolding and intimates that her husband Charles is mentally and physically weak and that brother Sam has taken advantage of his condition and has been trying to work him and to some extent has succeeded.

Mrs. Shortridge does not seem to fancy brother Sam's self appointed guardianship over her and her affairs and judging from her statement in the Examiner he has tackled a big job.

In the meantime Charles M. is rusticated at Carson and no doubt is flattered and amused at the sensation he is creating at the State capital. Here in Reno the possibility of his candidacy for United States Senator has never caused a ripple; on the other hand his prolonged visit at Carson and the fact that he is a newspaper man, also the location of the Keeley Institute in that city, are circumstances of striking significance.

For the Spring and Summer.

S. Jacobs has just finished opening one of the largest stocks of gents and boys Spring and Summer clothing, furnishing goods, hats, caps, neckwear, etc., ever brought to Reno. It comprises the latest novelties and fads in the line. Fashionable and up to date in every particular and the variety gives ample opportunity for the various ideas and tastes as to appropriate dress.

He is offering special inducements in prices and guarantees profit and complete satisfaction to every customer. The goods are now ready for inspection and everyone is invited to call at his store and investigate. It will not cost one cent to see the goods, and whether a person buys or not, it will be worth while to call to make comparisons in price and style of the goods. Call early while the stock is complete, for already the goods are going rapidly.

Arbor Day Observed.

The pupils of the several public school departments held interesting Arbor Day exercises at the High School yesterday. Hon. F. H. Nortross delivered an appropriate address and the students rendered a program comprising songs, recitations and short speeches.

The Senior class planted a tree in memory of the battleship Maine, also one in honor of Consul General Lee. Professor Bray also gave a short talk appropriate to the occasion.

Mrs. Lokan, of the Southside School and her little pupils presented an interesting program and planted several trees. Mrs. Wentworth of the Huffer school held appropriate exercises and entertained a large number of the patrons of her school. A nice lunch at the conclusion of the exercises was a feature.

A Decision Rendered.

The arguments in the case of T. V. Julien vs. the City Council of Reno were concluded in the District Court yesterday morning and Judge Cheney immediately rendered his decision in favor of the Board. He decided that the City Fathers had the power under the law to employ special counsel when in the opinion of the Board the circumstances warranted. It is not known whether or not an appeal will be taken.

The old Bailey corral will be fitted up for a quarantine station. Obuses, side tracks and other conveniences for handling stock will be put in. Mr. B. W. He Wants to go to the Front and Serve His Country.

Battery A, N. N. G. of Virginia City, resolved to disobey orders to parade on the Fourth of July last, and several members of the Battery were tried by Court Martial, and convicted, and subsequently dismissed from the service. The Governor, who is, by virtue of his office, Commander-in-Chief of the State Militia, signified his willingness to pardon all the members of the Battery who were found guilty by the Court Martial, but they would not accept of pardon, though willing to accept it if voluntarily granted. The result was the disbanding of the Battery, some of the members of which were dishonorably discharged.

Now, Newton I. Morgan, Second Lieutenant of the Battery, has applied to Governor Sadler for pardon. He says he is a Nevada raised young man, born in Storey county, and wants to serve his country. He wants to enlist in one of the Virginia City companies, and defend his country's flag. The Governor immediately pardoned Mr. Morgan, and the patriotic young man can now enlist and go to the front with the Nevada volunteers.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

(Copyright, 1898, by W. T. Foster.)

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 23.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 28th to May 2d.

The next disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about May 3d, cross the west of Rockies country by close of 4th, great central valleys 5th to 7th, Eastern States May 9th.

Warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about May 3d, great central valleys 5th, Eastern States 7th. Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country May 6th, great central valleys May 8th, Eastern States 10th.

Temperature of the week ending May 27th will average about normal east of the Rockies and below west. Rainfall will be about average in the country near a line running from Washington to Mobile, below in all other sections east of the Rockies and above in the western Mountain countries.

In large portions of the great central valleys a serious drought will seem to be probable about the time this bulletin is published. Except near the line from Washington to Mobile the lack of rainfall will begin to create alarm.

At the same time portions of the Alleghenies covered by the line mentioned and the high lands between the Missouri river and the Pacific ocean will have an abundance of rain.

The temperature forecast test for Chicago continues to be a success for the forecasts. No serious break has occurred since the first of January.

Next week's bulletin will contain a general forecast for May including the threatened drought.

Whether one purchases or not it is a satisfaction to look at pretty articles, and his store is a perfect bazaar. His prices are in keeping with the times, and the crisis of impending war or the probable checking of commercial relations with foreign powers will make no difference to Sol Levy as far as accommodating his patrons and giving them the best and cheapest bargains imaginable.

"A Naval Cadet," the highly interesting Comedy-drama, in which James J. Corbett has been starring with enormous success for the past two seasons, under the management of William A. Brady, will be the attraction at the Opera House on next Wednesday evening.

The papers of New York, Chicago and the Northwest, have spoken in the highest terms not only of the play, but of Mr. Corbett's improvement in acting. The New York Journal compared the piece with "The Prodigal Daughter" and "Ticket of Leave Man," which is certainly praise. The management here promises its many patrons a clean and refined entertainment, one to which no gentleman need fear to take his wife and family. The play will be placed upon the stage with all the scenery, mechanical effects, etc., and there is no doubt but that everyone has read of Mr. Corbett's wonderful career and will want to witness his performance. BIDS FOR MUNICIPAL BONDS
WANTED.
UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF THAT certain Act of the Legislature of the State of Nevada entitled "An Act to incorporate the Town of Reno," approved March 8, 1897, and of an affirmative vote of the electors of the City of Reno at a special election held on the 7th day of October, 1897, written bids are invited and will be received until April 11, 1898, at 8 o'clock P. M., Of said day for the purchase of the bonds of the City of Reno in the sum of $130,000, or any part thereof, not less than the sum of $500, to be known and designated as "Reno Water Works Bonds." Also for the purchase of the bonds of the City of Reno in the further sum of $20,000, or any part thereof, not less than the sum of $500, to be known as and designated as "Reno Electric Light Bonds." All of said bonds to bear interest at the rate of six per cent, payable annually. The principal of said bonds to mature and be payable in equal annual installments between and including the sixth and twentieth years from their date of issuance and the date of the said payments to be designated upon the face of the said bonds.
Both the principal and the interest of the said bonds to be payable at maturity in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the Treasurer of the City of Reno at Reno, Nevada. No bids for the said bonds or any thereof will be considered if for less than the par value thereof or if for a less amount than the sum of $500, and the right is expressly reserved to reject any and all bids.
The constitutionality of the above mentioned Act of the Legislature and the regularity and the legality of the above mentioned special election have been sustained by a comprehensive decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Nevada, a copy of which together with other pertinent information will be furnished to prospective bidders upon application therefor being made to the City Clerk. Bidders should designate in their respective bids the redemption year of the bonds for which they bid. All bids must be sealed, endorsed,
"Bids for Reno Bonds," and directed to F. B.
Porter, City Clerk, Reno, Nevada.

STATEMENT FOR THE INFOR-MATION OF PROSPECTIVE PUR-CHASERS OF RENO WATER WORKS AND
ELECTRIC LIGHT
BONDS.
THE CITY OF RENO WAS INCORPORated by a special Act of the Legislature of the State of Nevada, approved March 8, 1897. It is the largest city on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad between Sacramento, California, and Ogden, Utah, has had a steady and continuous growth ever since its inception and is situated in the midst of the richest agricultural and stock raising country between the Sierra Nevada and the Rocky mountains. Its resources are agricultural and pastoral rather than those of mines. It is the terminus of the V & T. R. R. extending south with its connection three hundred and fifty miles, and also of the N. C. & O. R. R. extending north eighty miles. It is the seat of the State University, of the State Hospital for Mental Diseases, and of the State Agricultural Society. At the general election of 1896 it cast 1300 votes and its present extended population is 6,500. Its assessed valuation in the year 1897 was the sum of $1,745, 890 which was upon a low and very conservative basis of valuation. Its total bonded indebtedness from all sources is $45,000. The total rate of taxation in the year 1897 for State, county, and local purposes was $2.87 on each one hundred dollars valuation.
By its Incorporation Act the City is authorized, subject to an affirmative vote of its electors to issue its bonds in a sum not exceeding $150,000 for procuring water and constructing municipal water works, and in a necessary sum for constructing municipal electric light works. A special election was called by the City Council for October 7, 1897 at which election the electors of the city voted in favor of bonding the city in the sum of $130,000 for municipal water works and in the sum of $20,000 for a municipal electric light plant by a vote of 409 in favor of and 130 against.
In December 1897 an action in quo warranto was instituted in the Supreme Court of Nevada by Mr. A. G. Fletcher in which the constitutionality of the Incorporation Act was assailed upon twelve distinct grounds and also in which the legality, regularity, and sufficiency of the special election held on October 7, 1897, was questioned. On the 23rd day of February 1898, the Supreme Court of Nevada filed its unanimous opinion in the action in which it sustained the constitutionality of the Incorporation Act, and the legality, regularity, and the sufficiency of the special election, in each and every particular. The City Council is authorized by law to raise the necessary funds with which to meet the bond interest charges and to liquidate the principal by either direct taxation of all property or by water and light charges against users or by both.

Peculiar Chinese Customs.

The customs of the Chinese in the matter of death and burial are certainly peculiar. Infants are buried summarily without coffins, and the young are interred with few rites, but the funerals of the aged of both sexes are elaborate in proportion to the number of the descendants and to their wealth. When a childless married man dies; his widow may perform all the duties of a son toward him, may remain in his house and may adopt children to rear as his heirs and as worshippers of the family manes. If his widow purposes marrying again, a young male relative may, with the consent of senior members of the clan, undertake the services expected from a son and may inherit the estate of the deceased. When one is about to die, he is removed from his couch to a bench, or to a mat on the floor, because of a belief that he who dies in bed will carry the bedstead as a burden into the other world. He is washed in a new vessel, in warm water, in which a bundle of incense sticks is merged. After the washing the vessel and the water are thrown away together. He is then arrayed in a full suit of new clothing, that he may appear at his best. He breathes his last in the main room before the largest door in the house, that the departing soul may easily find its way out into the air. A sheet of spirit money (brown paper having a patch of gold on one surface) is laid over the unturned face, because it is said that if the eyes are left uncovered the corpse may count the row of tiles in the roof, and that in such case the family could never build a more spacious domicile.—New York Ledger.

Lincoln's Kindly Character.

Mr. Grov related a story about Lincoln which illustrated two phases of the martyr president's character. Mr. Grov, then speaker of the house, had gone to the president to ask the appointment of a friend as a judge in one of the territories. The president made a note of the request. A few days later, when Mr. Grov called at the White House not about the judgeship, but upon another matter, Mr. Lincoln at once began to apologize. "Mr. Speaker," said he, "I meant to appoint your friend to that judgeship, but a woman came in here with nine small children and one at the breast and pleaded the bread not and breaded me out of it." "While we were talking, however, Mr. Lincoln said that he would still attend to my matter and started to put down my friend's name. He went to his hat, which was filled with papers, and after remarking that he had a queer way of doing things began fumbling until he found a blank sheet. I told the president that if his hat should blow off a lot of state secrets would be scattered, but he only smiled, wrote down the name and said that he now knew where to find it when the time to consider the matter came around."—Washington Post.

His Request.

"You have scarcely spoken to me at all this evening," she said in tones of reproach. "I—I beg your pardon," her husband returned apologetically. "I was just trying to think of something to say." "Is there anything on your mind?" "Yes, to tell you the truth, there is." "Can't I help you in some way?" "You might, if I could suggest it without your becoming angry." "Tell me about it. It is my duty to sympathize with you, you know." "On my birthday anniversary you gave me a fountain pen." "Yes. And now you are going to say that it makes a horrid mess and that you don't want to write with it." "I'm not going to say anything of the kind," he replied stoutly. "I'm going to write with that pen every day of my life. But there is one little favor that I would like to ask." "What is it?" "Please make me a suit of overalls to go with it."—Washington Star.

Graceless.

A tiny girl of 7 or thereabout gave a dinner party the other day for which 12 covers were laid, and that number of small maidens sat down to dine. It was a real little girls' dinner, and the little hostess herself presided, sitting at the head of the table. But she was anxious, in looking forward to it, to do everything as it should be done. "Mamma," she asked, "shall we say grace?" "No," said mamma, "it will be a very informal dinner, and I think you need not do that." That meant one less ceremony to be gone through and was a relief, but the little lady was anxious to have all her small guests understand it. So as they were gathered about the table she explained: "Mamma says this is such an informal dinner that we need not have grace today."—New York Times.

Soured Pennyson.

Tennyson one day entered a club reading room and sat down in a large arm-chair before the fire. Much to the amazement of the other occupants of the room, he proceeded to elevate his feet until they rested on the chimney-piece in "real American" fashion. No expostulations on the part of his friends respecting the ineligibility of the position were of the slightest avail. Suddenly a brilliant inspiration seized one of them. Going close to Lord Tennyson, he whispered in his ear, "Take your feet down or they'll mistake you for Longfellow." In an instant the poet's boots were on the floor, and he assumed the ordinary position of an Englishman.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Calm in Time of Emergency.

Lived to Fight Another Day.

"By George, boys, I never was in such a hot place in my life! Every fellow who put his head up so that the top showed over the stone wall was sure to get a bullet through it. Out of 97 men in our company 25 were plunked right square in the forehead."

The battle-scarred veteran, known to be such because he acknowledged it himself, was entertaining a crowd of loafers in a grocery store. They stood around and listened with respectful awe to his tales of battles and blood.

"What company was it that you belonged to?" inquired a quiet-looking man who sat back in the corner.

"Company K, Eleventh Pennsylvania reserves," answered the narrator bravely, "and no other company was in as many battles or lost as many men as my company. By George, boys, you haven't any idea of the fun we went through!" "Might I inquire your name?" asked the quiet man again.

"My name? Sam Smith, of course. Ask any of the boys about Sam Smith of Company K, and they will tell you that he was always ready for a love scrape or a brush with the Johnnies. Ah, boys, but I was a reckless fellow in my young days."

"Yes, that's a fact," assented the quiet man. "I happened to be captain of that company, and I remember you now as the man who deserted from it on the way to the front. You were reckless of your honor then, and you're a reckless liar yet. You'd better go home."

The quiet man walked out of the store, and the silence was broken only by Sam Smith.

"Well, by gum!"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R. R., to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and return to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given to the Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many duplications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.
